

I am writing to appeal to you to uphold the "do not call" list. The telephone in my home is private and should not be used because someone wants to sell me something or to take a survey. If I want to purchase a product from a company, I will go there and purchase something. I do not want to be bothered with calls regarding something that I'm not interested in. The worst part is that they never give up. I work hard all day and when I come home I do not want to be bothered by telemarketers trying to sell me something. Private citizens have a right not to be bothered by these companies, including the banking system which is now trying to fight this list. Please hear our plea and uphold this law. We want to be left alone from these bothersome calls and be allowed our evenings to be "ring" free. Thank you.
